The Italian Question.

The rising in the Papul States, which began with the interregunit which followed the death of Pope Plus VIII, and became a revolution under Gregory XVI, was made the occasion for Austrian and French intervention. Reforms were osed to the Pope, and the plenipoleutiarle of all the great powers united in recommending the admissibility of laymen to civil and judicial flices, municipal reform in the capital and provlnees, and regulation of the finances of the State. This was on the 21st of May, 1831; but the Pope considered it an interference with his temporal power and granted nothing but a geneit as far back as 1863, while Mozzint was threat ening a republican invasion of Savey. In 1841 conspiracies were again rite in the logations, and bands of armed insurgents had beaten the Papal troops, and in 1848 Pope Pins 1X had to fly from lonic, while the tri-colored flag of Italy was plant. ed amid the rear of cannon. Since that period until recently French troops have protected the Pope against overthrow from his own subjects.

Physike Nindi has been Pope twenty-one years.

For the first few years of his election to the papary, he was regarded as a liberal and a refor-men; but he surrounded binstell with an istogratic and unpopular advisors and ministers, one of whom, Count Rossi, we consensatinated in broad day light in the streets of Roses. The Pope, alarme for his personal safety, fled from the city in disguise and remained abroad until the Emperor Vapoleon gained possession of Rome and guar supposed games possession of come and guar-nutie this return insafety. The people of Rome have never been contented subjects of the Popu's temporal power. They want the old capital of Italy restored. Italian unity demands it, but this would destroy the temporal power of of the Pope. France, like Sprin and Austria, is Intensely Rom in Catholle, and although many of the mo telligent people are true republicans, still the great majority, breised by the priests, are sup-penters of the Emperor. The industrial disintergraion resultant upon the war has raduced this to much more insignificant fraction. By the French system of beet-raising more than a ton of sugar is produced to the acre, and by a proper rotation of crops the land may be kept lu good condition, and manure is only needed in alternate years. The labor of rising a crop of beets is said to be less, the expense less, and the certainty of a crop greater than a corn crop, and the sugar is as good for all practical jumpoes as cane augar. If the business is as profital as is asserted, there seems no good reason why the cultivation of the best show Interstive industry in the broad fields of the West.

A Mr. Weston, of Portland, Me., warnal on Puesday last to walk from that city to Chicago, a distance of twelve hundred miles, in thirty con secutive days, for a wager of $10,000. The term of the agreement originally supulated that he should start on the 15th of Nov., but the challengers consented to allow him till the 20ch, I is train ng, upon condition that he should walk twentyand distonal miles. Then Weston's mother, lous old hady, induced him to promise that h would not walk on Bundays, a circumstance that reduces his time to twenty-six days, and require him to accomplish upon the average forty-sever and 2 liths miles per day. Whether he will win the money or lose it remains to be seen. In a let ter to the Providence Journal, he explains his molive- for putting himself on the pede-trim course.

He says:

"An the winter of 1895, I became somewhat have the dobt by intrusting money to other parties. Evantually I loss all I had, and some thousands of follows which kind friends had loaned. sands of dottars which kind friends not toance me. When I informed them of my situation, and that I was totally unable to pay them for an indefinite time, instead of upbraiding me for the loss of their money, (though they were not in circumstances to afford such a loss,) they kindly told me to give myself no uncasiness on their account. For months I toiled to try and gain even a small amount to pay on secount, but could count. For months I content of you gain even a small ament to pay on account, but could barely gain a living for my family.

I need only say that should I win, I receive an amount sufficient to pay my indebtedness and to reinstate me in business. Some people condemn me in my undertaking, and look upon it. the same as they look upon a prize fight. I think that because my Maker has endowed with unders greater walking abilities than n with pulsaps greater walking addities than most of my fellow-men, and because I walk for a walking addities than most of my fellow-men, and because I walk for a walking a may be applied, if I am successful, that I must be car-sed with prize-fighters. "I leave Portland, Maine, at 12 m., Tuesday, October 20th. I shall be in Portland during the Stunday and Sunday previous, at the residence of my sister, in South Providence, where I shall be happy to meet any friends and old school-mates who may be pleased to call.

"In conclusion t would add that, though I lay no pretensions to piety, common sense teaches me there is a God in everything, and that, under-standing my motives for this race, and the just-principle which actuales the motive, He will guide me to my journey's end."

The Indian Peace Treatles.

The treaty made by the Indian Commissione with the Kiowa and Comanche tribes on the 2ts inst., gives them about six thousand square miles (three and a half million acres) of land, embracebetween the north fork of the Red River and the Red River, beginning at the intersection of the thirly fifth parallel with the ninety-eighth merid-ian, embracing the southwestern corner of the presont Indian territory, with fraction a from the Texas man, woman and child. It is also provided that these tribes shall induce their brethren, the Commuches in northern Texas, to come and live with them, and if they succeed that the United States will calarge their reservation, adding mantity of land sufficient to give each person o the remaining Comanches that have been induced to come, three hundred and twenty acres. This will leave a section of country on the Texas frontler free from the ludians, and open the way t civilizing a roving hand. On this reservation there are several bands of the Comanches already farming, and by Colonel Pennybacker and other it is proposed to build an agency house, a ware-house and other buildings, for a teacher, farmer, miller, physician, &c., and that these persons he furnished by the Commissioners for the Indians, and live on the reservation and aid them.

In lieu of the annuities provided under the treaty of 1865, it is proposed to give each Indian on the reservation annually a suit of clothes, condeting of coat, pantalonus, hat and socks, and in sisting of cont, pantalonus, hat and socks, and in addition to this, that $25,000 to given anomally, in such articles as the Indians most need. Seve-ral other provisions are made to furnish seeds and agricultural implements to such Indians agree may commence farming. The Indians agree to keep lasting peace; to canture no women or may commence tarming. In a manne agree to keep lasting peace; to capture no women or rhifdren, to aluck no more trains, and to coase killing men; and it is also agreed to allow them to hant on the old reservation, south of Arkan-sas, until the settlements drive them away from that hunting ground.

Brown Bhothers, Pleasantville, This couse ranks among the oldest and largest in the sil region. Indeed, we believe it is without a superior, in regard either to age of location, the dimensions of its buildings, the extent of stock, or the amount of capital invested. It incindes in its various departments all classes of trade usually combined in the familiar title of a variety stere, and yet they are as clearly defined and conducted as independently of each other as though operated by as many different firms, and entirely unconnected with each other. The grocery and provision department occupi one entire building from besement to attic, and contains a stock of proportionate dimensions. The dry goods stors adjoins the same premises, and is of truly paintial dimensious, and stocked to correspond. The business of the firm has a wide extended circuit, and its patronage embraces every acction of the oil region. There is, in fact, no class of buyers who cannot be supplied from the house of Brown Brothers, in either the grocery or mercantile line. We direct attention t cery or mercanting time. We direct attention to their advertisement, which is as stationary in the citams of this paper as the signs upon their buildings—besides the transless announcements which appear from time to time among the local amouncements of the Herallo.

Reten of a Rumble in "Dinies". . . -Will you allow me to say a few words through your carnest liberty-toving journal, of what I saw on a recent visit on business in Virginia and North Carolina.

voren Carolina. The country everywhere denotes rain and decolation--sinch as only war produces. Small crops me growing in and about Richmond and Petersburg; so small that it would seem that it would consumed, if none but the negroes were fed on them, in a few weeks. In North Carolina the corn is much better; this is the staple crop for food. The cotton crop in this latter State, although a month late, is, say a half cron-not more; the present price, 18e to 20c, 23cc on the pound tax for revenue. The great expense of provisions, which have to be sent to the planters na New York, together with wages for Superintendent and laborers, uses up the crop, so nothing to left for the planter, and the large pines; tations are being abandoned to re-grow to pines. Thousands and sens of thousands of acres are

Northern men and capital have undertaken slace the war to buy land and grow cotton; all of whom, that I know of, have failed to make money out of it, and want to sell out and withdraw their capital. In tact, I think very few plantations are cultivated and very few trues of cotton raised in the South without Northern apital-and this will be agostly withdrawn hereafter unless the tax of 25% is taken off; this tax is $10 on a bale of four hundred pounds. skilenjfatel blogner cen jouk stand anch a mx as this; Congress must see they are destroying this great staple article of wealth in this country.

The South is so poor that she has no power.

South is so poor that she has no power to rebuild herself. So great is this destitu early all the white inhabitants have fled the country, for two reasons; first, the impossibility to help themselves to do anything, as no one t the South has money to: do business with, and nothing can be done but to go to work with the negroes. Second, they are glad to leave and mix ith the North to relieve themselves from the taint of rebellion and treason. The fact is, there e a reason for the whites not registering or vot ing at the South; they are not there to registe ind vote. They have abandoned the country to he blacks. In a two days' ride over their coun try I met in the highway just one white man only! while I met any number of negrous. The negroes are emphatically "masters of the situa tion." On my return North the cars stopped at station in Virginia where the polis of election were held, where were congregated bundreds of negroes, but I did not see to exceed half a dozen white men. The fact is, we have Lee's army now in the North, not to invade and destroy, but to carn industry, business and self-support. --Doubtless they will try to help their war allies till they come to learn that they are their worst

We shall see, on the other hand, the Northern usters of the South ; (every rebel State,) who can and will hold these States, by their new and loyal allies; the rear rank of the grand army of occupation-the negro. By the year 1869, the Democratic party will as strongly protest against the admission of the ten now excluded States from representation in Congress, as they are now auxious for their admission. It they were admitted now, to the next Congress, not a rehe could be returned by the popular rote. Here after you will hear but little about the wrongs of the South-because she is shut out from repre entation in Congress. There is no trouble the South about the Congressional plan of Re construction. The trouble is with the rebs nu cops at the North. After Johnson is deposed, we may expect him to take up his residence in New York city, as a contributor to the World, or Express, for Tennessee will be no longer to his liking. Gov. Brownlow and the negroes have stablished law and liberty in that State, and rebels are estiminals before the law, and have to take criminals' scats before the bar. May God asten the day when it shall be so in all the States composing this Union.

A surface nearly equal to two rooms each of 28 fect square. The ceilings to Nos. 3, 4, 5 and 6 are nine feet and one inch in height.

During the month of December no particular account was kept of the quantity of coal that was consumed to heat this space; but early in January my attention was called to the very small amount that had been used, and feeling deeply interested in all new inventions and improvements, I determined to keep an accurate record of the daily consumption, together with the range of the thermometer in the external armosphere This record, as will be seen, covers the inserval from January 6 to February 28, 1867, a period of fifty-three days. The coal was weighed daily, to a quarter of a pound; the quantity consumed was 1,525% pounds, or an average of 28 78-100 pounds per day of twenty-four hours, as the fire was not out during the time.

The average range of the thermometer, as kep morning and evening by that accurate statistician (on all subjects connected with the weather) Mr. Joe: Andrews, was 23 32-100 degrees above

It will be seen that the quantity of roal range from 131/4 to 175/4 pounds per day, and the exter nal temperature from 5 degrees below zero to 45 above, and that the rate of the former is generally in close approximation to the condition of the latter. In the cases where there is any consider able variation it is mainly due to the increases draft in the Furnice, caused by fileb winds which prevailed on those days, and our own neglect ! 101 setting the Regulator in correspondence with the same, for this Regulator has the consumption of the coal under as complete control as the Gov ernor of an Engine has of its speed. If more care and been used during the fullil days to se be Regulator in accordance with the tempera ture of the weather, a material reduction could have been made even upon the low average be fore stated.

The six different rooms and balls, as describe were warmed, to my perfect satisfaction, during the coldest of the weather, and in the cellar, at the and of the basement half, nothing was frozen during the winter. I was never annoyed or pol sound by the escape of Coul Gas; the fire did not go out" during the time.
